2023 AEE West Proceedings Table of Contents

Track A- Optimizing Energy Efficiency

Chapter 1	Developing Innovative Public Policy as a Roadmap of Efficiency, Equity and Good Governance Elin Shepard, CEM, LEED AP BD + C, Outreach Manager, CLEAResult David Wortman, ISSP-SA, LEED AP BD + C, Statewide Sustainability Officer	1
Chapter 2	The Intersection of Behavioral Energy Efficiency and Public Policy Elin Shepard, CEM, LEED AP BD + C, Outreach Manager, ClearResult	10
Chapter 3	Why Was Industrial Energy Efficiency Not Included in the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022? Ales Litomisky, President, Ecogate	23
Chapter 4	Energy Efficiency Incentives in the Inflation Reduction Act Kristin Gustafson, PE, CEM, Director of Business Credits & Incentives, Eide Bailly LLC	27
Chapter 5	VHE HVAC: A Solution in the Pursuit of Electrification and Decarbonization Barry Stephens, East Region Sales Manager, Ventacity Systems	45
Chapter 6	Building Performance Monitoring as a Means to Achieve Decarbonization Goals Ally Duncan, LEED AP BD+C, CBCP, MBCx Engineering Project Manager, Stok Jessica Shaw, MBCx Engineering Project Coordinator, Stok	65
Chapter 7	Optimizing the Optimization Process (MBCx, RCx, M&V) James Gessel, Engineer, kW Engineering	76
Chapter 8	Envelope, Heating Plants, and the Big Projects We Can't Hit our Targets Without Tayber Yastremski, ME, EP, CEM, SPG Principal, Sustainable Projects Group	89
Chapter 9	GoGreen Business Energy Financing: State-administered, utility-supported financing for energy efficiency projects Kaylee D'Amico Allen, MPA, Program Manager, GoGreen Financing	110
Chapter 10	Funding Your Energy Project with New Tax Incentives Related to the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) Jacob Goldman, Vice President, Energy Tax Savers, Inc.	117

Track B- New Technologies

Chapter 11	Lignocellulosic Biofuels Commercialization Abdelhadi Hussein, CEM, Senior Energy Engineer, ICF Paul Biney, PhD, Professor, Mechanical Engineering Department, Prairie View A&M University Michael Gyamerah, PhD, Professor, Chemical Engineering Department, Prairie View A&M University	135
Chapter 12	Small Furnaces, Big Improvements Rohit Jogineedi, PhD, Engineer, GTI Energy	144

Chapter 13	Low Cost/No Cost Industrial Steam System Optimization John Puskar, PE, CIEP, CEM, President, Prescient Technical Services LLC Darrin Smith, Student Design Team, Youngstown State University, Prescient Technical Services LLC Luke Nilsson, Student, Youngstown State University Ian Norman, Student, Youngstown State University	157
Chapter 14	Application of Nanofluids in Hydronic Systems Jim McEnteggart, PE, Senior Vice President- Business Development (US), HT Materials Science	169
Chapter 15	Energy Auditing According to ASHRAE Standard 211- 2018 Thomas Sherman, CEM, CEA, CDSM, CCASS, President, Sustainable Energy Services, Inc.	174
Chapter 16	How Building Automation Systems Help Companies Reach Their ESG Goals Zach Cornwell, National Enterprise Sales, FSG Smart Buildings	200
Chapter 17	Gas Prohibited for Heating? Too Cold for Air-Source Heat Pump? Introducing “Heating with Ice” Bruce Lindsay, PE, CEM, Thermal Energy Storage Business Development, Trane Technologies	207
Chapter 18	AMI- Data Rich, Information Poor- How to Turn Smart Meters into a Pot of Gold Kerry Rowland, CEM, Energy Efficiency Principal, PSO	215
Chapter 19	Partnering with Automation for Best Results Jason Beneker, CEM, CMVP, MBA, Associate Director Facility Operations, Kite Pharma	224
Chapter 20	Client Success Story- Portfolio-wide Optimization CP Pitones, Solutions Consultant, Yardi Systems, Inc	229
Chapter 21	Leveraging EBCx to Develop a Long-Term Energy + Carbon Reduction Plan Saverio Grosso, CEM, CEA, ECBP, CBCP, Managing Director, Edison Energy	234

Track C- The Path to a Clean Energy Future

Chapter 22	Recognizing the Challenges in the Quest for Emission-free Transportation Kat Janowicz, MSME, MBA, CEM, LEED GA, ENV SP, President and CEO, 3COTECH, Inc.	245
Chapter 23	Enterprise-Wide Decarbonization of an Industrial Asset Set Mohammad Hoda, Director- Carbon Neutrality/Sustainability, Honeywell PMT James Dodenhoff, Principal, Silent Running LLC	254
Chapter 24	The University of Michigan Energy Management Program- GHG Emission Reduction to Carbon Neutrality Stephen Kunselman, CEM, Energy Conservation Liaison, University of Michigan	262
Chapter 25	Accelerating the Path to Net Zero with Energy as a Service for Geothermal Exchange Systems Matthew Tokarik, President, Subterra Renewables	273
Chapter 26	Demystifying Energy Code Submetering Requirements and What’s Next? John Busch, RSM, Leviton Manufacturing Co., Inc.	277
Chapter 27	Decarbonization of Residential Water Heaters Using Hydrogen with Gas Quality Monitoring Yan Zhao, PhD, Researcher, GTI Energy	287
Chapter 28	Leveraging Renewable Natural Gas for Low-Carbon, Low-Cost Hydrogen Riley Johanson, Sales Manager- Western US, Bayotech	295
Chapter 29	A Catalyst Discovery Engine for Green Hydrogen Production Mark McGough, CEO, H2U Technologies	301

Track D- Resiliency and Reliability: Adapting to Climate Trends

Chapter 30	Bringing Energy Efficiency to Underserved Communities Lance Escue, Implementation Portfolio Director, Leidos Jackie-Joyner Kersee, Founder and CEO, Jackie Joyner-Kersee Foundation Deb Perry, Manager, Energy Efficiency Strategy & Innovation, Ameren Illinois	311
Chapter 31	With New ESG Data Demands, Engineers Will Lead the Way Towards Sustainable Operations Chelsea Davis, Product Manager, Atrius, Acuity Brands Adam Handler, Director, Corporate Sustainability & Communications, Acuity Brands	329
Chapter 32	Thermal Loads in Indoor Agriculture Design William Stober, Building Performance Engineer, Red Car Analytics	336
Chapter 33	Low and No-Cost Energy Efficiency Projects Yield Big Savings Ashton Genzman, Strategic Energy Management Coach, Cascade Energy	361
Chapter 34	The Best Kept Secret to Industrial and Commercial Building Sustainability David Parsons, BSEE, Technical Director, Voltage Stasis Technologies	374
Chapter 35	Evaluating the Value of Energy Resiliency Using a Hybrid Cost-Benefit Analysis Tool Austin Beach, CEM, Engineering Specialist, Center for Sustainable Energy Christopher Vogel, CEM, Senior Engineer, Center for Sustainable Energy	385
Chapter 36	Importance of Energy Data Logging at Industrial and Commercial Facilities- Annual Data Logging Comparisons... Why? Paul Benschine, Area Account Manager, Voltage Stasis Technologies LLC	399
Chapter 37	Resiliency and Reliability Using a One-Line Electrical Design Adil Khan, BSEE, MBA, Applications Engineer, TransPower Company	405
Chapter 38	Navigating the Commercial Solar & Storage Requirements of Title 24 Zach Einterz, Director of Product Marketing, Stem	409
Chapter 39	Benchmarking and Improving Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy Performance in Multifamily Housing Tom White, BPI-MFBO, Associate Director of Building Performance and Sustainability	419
